

John HallTreasurer, Board of Directors – Avolatus Foundation

John Hall brings over 25 years of strategic financial and operational leadership in the aerospace sector to his role as Treasurer of the Avolatus Foundation. He currently serves as a senior leader at Yulista Aviation, Inc., where he is responsible for overseeing compliance-driven aviation support services, aircraft maintenance programs, and fiscal stewardship across enterprise-level operations.

A graduate of the University of Delaware, John blends his extensive technical background in aviation services with a deep understanding of program management and budget oversight. At Yulista, he has led initiatives that integrate supply chain logistics, aircraft lifecycle management, and regulatory compliance—supporting both government and commercial aviation programs.

John is a respected member of the Huntsville aerospace and defense community and is recognized for his ability to unify technical and business functions under a shared mission. As Treasurer of the Avolatus Foundation, he provides guidance on financial strategy, ensures responsible stewardship of donor contributions, and supports the long-term fiscal sustainability of the Foundation's programs and partnerships.